One day he went to war with his enemy. In the war, he lost his life in an encounter. The next day, his sons and sons in law were sitting together and the sister of the deceased told him that she has heard the gurgling sound of his last breath and that his soul has gone. The father was so sad that his life was cut short and his soul had left him and spent the rest of his life alone with regret. After some time the son of the deceased told the father that if the deceased had not died of heart attack but by an unnatural death i.e. suffocation the law of the land would not apply to him. So the father told his sons and sons in law to bring him the deceasedÂ´s household belongings so that they can decide which law to follow. While the sons and sons in law were bringing all the goods the deceased breathed his last and his spirit left his body and went away, and the father told the sons and sons in law that the law of death which has been applied to them will not apply to him. Then he asked the sons and sons in law to forgive him for his mistake.Periodontal drug delivery systems. Periodontal diseases are affecting a majority of individuals in the aging population. These diseases are typically chronic, progressive and difficult to treat. There are several treatment modalities available to treat periodontal disease, including mechanical, laser and drug therapy. The most widely used drug therapy for periodontal disease is the use of locally delivered agents. These agents are applied to the periodontal pocket that contains the inflamed periodontal tissue to penetrate the inflamed periodontal tissue and possibly be transported to the periodontal pocket along the circulation of the host. The pH and buffering capacity of saliva promote the presence of these locally delivered agents, which are then transported to the periodontal pocket. This chapter
