Q: Getting the tag names of a form using JQuery I am a JQuery beginner and I am using a website which I am not sure if it is using a jquery. When I try to get the value of the form using this code I get the error of Uncaught TypeError: undefined is not a function here is the code `$('#btnGet').click(function(){ var title = $('#title').val(); alert(title); });` What is the problem in my code? A: Replace: `$('#btnGet').click(function(){` with: `$('#btnGet').click(function(){` You have used the scope-less version of the function, which doesn't exist.

Schizophrenia is a major public health problem with roughly 1% of the US population suffering from this illness. While the current antipsychotic medications available are effective, many patients suffer from side effects, such as cognitive impairment, extrapyramidal symptoms (EPS), and tardive dyskinesia
