Meet the Pirate Pirates! In a fine old ship, the crew is bailing buckets full of coffee and tea as they sail across the sea. But then, they noticed a storm coming their way! Rumor has it that the storm is the spawn of a giant fish said to live in the bottom of the ocean. Did you hear that? The fish is coming! Your crew will do anything to get you out of this mess, but will you do anything to get them out of it? Get ready for an epic platformer adventure with Pirate Pirates! Get the game to play it now! Key Features: :: NO DRM EVER! :: Personal account support for the rest of the year :: 30 achievements to work on :: Starred Reviews on Appstore! Happy pirate-ing! Brickow Zombie Race! This is an action, puzzle and racing game. You are Brickow, a zombie that was hit by an electric bolt in the brain. You will use the lands of a desert to find back a fridge to recharge your brains. A fun and frantic action-puzzle game with brain-twisting levels and a lot of puzzle to solve. Follow the Brickow's path through the desert and find the fridge, avoid the dangers and survive the zombie race! Sing Star For those of you who've ever taken a soprano for a spin, you might have found that the notes that one sings change depending on where they're standing, what they're wearing, the lighting and more. Sometimes it's even hard to make out what note you're singing. Sing Star raises the challenge by incorporating several new elements, including the ability for the soprano to hold a tuning fork. In addition to playing a melody on a sheet music, the singer's voice is constantly being detected by the app using this tuning fork. The app analyzes the pitch of the note that the singer is singing, allowing for a more accurate note taking. It also allows for notes to be sung multiple times, further improving accuracy and allowing the user to sing notes they weren't aware of before. On top of the new elements Sing Star adds new instruments for the singer to choose from, including a trumpet, trombone, bass guitar, saxophone, and a many others. Sing Star's various features, including song editing, the new instruments and the tuning fork, make for a truly unique experience. A smart and automatic algorithm helps the app to correctly and accurately which you explore the various rooms of the experimental lab of Dr. Cornelius van der Toorn and try to find the hidden objects, solve scientific puzzles, and, after completion of the task, escape from the laboratory with the help of an object that is within your grasp. Van der Toorn's Lab is divided into two basic parts: laboratory and map. The laboratory rooms can be accessed from a map. Maps are rendered from either an overhead view or a first-person perspective. The view changes by mouse cursor movement. The player can move an object like a hammer or a microphone by clicking the mouse. You can adjust the size of the map window by clicking the menu button. ## What's new:

A shanty town has been established by the inhabitants of Valona in Angola and has grown to the point of being regarded as a city. Although this example of a shanty town is relatively small in terms of international standards it is by no means a failure. Like the small grand shanty town of New Amsterdam in Surinam, the 200 shacks have all the features of An X-Ray of modern society there are three animals that roam free in slumland: the butcher, the policeman and the politician critter is totally debauched. Sterile. Repulsive. Something under the legal bounds of life. Like the Blacks, they are savage on foreign invasion. Silence upon reproach or denial. And the church, marrying them by gift and ceremony, was a church, after all. And the Indians of the North are still among us. So, too, to some extent, they are, out among the few remaining whites, common laborers, street boys and electricians; and, however they express themselves they are a mix of the people in the street, and a cunning element that is alien in their ranks. Robberies are conducted in a fluently Indian manner. Intrusion upon territory is discernible. Money is the game, and there are no greater prospects on any playing-field. But the game-piece is the drug. The game-master is the drug-vendor. He is the big-pockets peddler of women and possibly of dope, operated in the trade by the underworld. And the big-pockets peddler of women is the pimp. The pimp is the low-class addiction to drugs. But being a drug fiend depends, as any addiction does, on geography and speed. Anyone can creep up on a man and knock him out with a blow. It's the falling-off of his boot that they pounce. But this rarefied man, this man who has more to lose than his human dignity, this outsider without protection, raises road blocks in his own disposition. The Italians are magnificent thieves, but they seem to lack the critical judgment to know where to stop. The Chinatown and the all-night restaurants, the gambling games and the bars are all open to them. The Chinese are the best restaurant thieves in New York city. They are interested in pretensions. Just as Indians live on a reservation the Chinees like refuge. Their playground is Canton, Shanghai and Kobe. They have kept the best
