This invention relates to a method for the resolution of a methacrylate monomer and the N-alkylation product obtained therefrom, and more particularly to a process for the recovery of the resolution product by heating the reaction mixture under vacuum to a temperature and for a time sufficient to effectively remove the reaction solvent, then recovering and purifying the resolution product by distillation. The isolation of the optically active compound (2R,4S)-2-(4-bromobutyl)-4-methacryloyloxybutyl)phenyl (2R,4S)-2-(2-methylbutoxy)-4-methacryloyloxybutan-1-ol from the reaction product of 2-bromo-2-methylbutanol with ethyl methacrylate is known. In U.S. Pat. No. 3,919,355, the reaction

product is initially treated with c9d1549cdd

[The Dungeon Slayer: [Feel free to join in, we'd love to have a good group for our campaign. ~~~ babby What time zones do you all play in? ~~~ aaronblohowiak The nights are 1-3 EST, with multiple people playing in the middle or late evening. It can be slow to log in, but we tend to roll a lot of dungeoneering in the morning. ------ bananas Have played WoW a few times, EVE - a lot, and also plenty of D&D. Looking for a couple of good campaigns that can run on Skype/Twilio. ~~~ saraid216 I would recommend Dogfight Dailies on WoW. It's a fun game that is a lot of fun to play with friends (at least for me), and I don't think it'd be too hard to adapt the format. There's a certain genre of indie games that are primarily strategy games, and they tend to be text-heavy. ~~~ babby I've been having a lot of fun with it on Skype/Twilio. It's kinda scary that it's so easy to make in real life. ------ saraid216 There's this thing called "Dungeon World." It's a GMless RPG written by a programmer and published under an open license. world.sourceforge.net/dw2/dw2.html I know it's got some odd rules, but I find it to be very interesting. The _sort of_ rules are not terribly important to my enjoyment, but it's an interesting break from the norm. ------ rner

What's new in Star Realms - Frontiers Events:

", I apologise in advance - we took part in a pub quiz competition this week, and I did well, good actually, but they didn't have the overall top spot to thank me with next to a very expensive drink so I have had to drink enough not to squabble about their outrageous prices. Anyway - So they have had the overall top spot for the last few weeks and at the end of this week I mentioned about doing another quiz next month but hey, if they keep it up I can still go to Castle Quay and drink in the old Convent for £5 a pint from 10pm-2am, which is great. Secondly - This week saws re speed up their 4th studio album which we are looking forward to. Freya's Mum is teaching a course in watercolours so when she isnt here we asked if we could please get to experience watercolours. So me and Janette banged it out as best we could as she had to do a large amount of it at some point in those 6 days. I've put a picture of what we looked like - I'm the white hatted girl - but I didn't feel it was appropriate, and was in the hall the whole time so couldn't get a picture of that either - and we have no video footage from the recording studio because Freya and her mum were watching a rugby game and recording everything. Next - Finally, I had the good fortune of having 4 days off work this week. Dear Melissa has been on a course and after hall discussion, she has decided she really doesn't want to bring the megging bit back into her job which is good - so she can now go back to being head of the kitchen team. Sigh of relief! I thought that was where it was going to end, but now the problem I have is that I don't know what to do to see if she's working on a Tuesday or Thursday or night so to keep her motivation up - I need to see her working extra hours just so that when she's contracted, she can send me her invoice for more hours. But hmmm - whilst I'm
